Hi Everyone and welcome to 2023.

I hope you all had a fantastic Christmas and New Year's break and that you are ready for a new year of exploring this great land of ours. It looks like it's going to be a great year for trips. The committee is also looking at some different activities for our meetings over the year so we should have a load of fun.

A couple of the trips coming up Tristan & Sally's Big Desert Adventure in mid March and Bruce's Flinders Ranges Exploration for 10 days across Easter in April. Check these out later in the magazine and get the dates in your diaries.

If you feel like running a trip but are a bit hesitant then please shout out to me or other committee members and we will gladly help you.

We had a few trips out over the Christmas period and i am looking forward to hearing all about them. And thankfully I have now been freed up from my job hunting and will be looking at running a trips myself.

Thats all from me, Happy New Year and look forward to seeing you at the next meeting

Cheers, Cal.

Trip Reports:

Maree gave a report on the recent Sheeppark Flats trip organized by her and Stuart. They left Friday morning, collecting other members en route. Ian and Libby had a sick truck which had to be towed back home. Michael arrived and was able to winch Stu out of the river after too close a look – and that was using a Kings winch!! It was very muddy and boots had to be retrieved from back during this winching operation. They did a number of local tracks including Refrigerator Track, Lovicks Hut, Pitcher Point (which was very very soggy) and back to Sheepparks. Had roaring fire and delicious lemon cake. Next day did Doherty's road since other options were very wet, then back to Mansfield where everyone departed. Maree and Stu then went back in to Sheepparks and stayed rest of the week.

Steve P talked about possible trip to Murray river around Aus Day long weekend. More details to follow

Upcoming Trips:

Marysville - Ly's re-scheduled trip now 26th November - this has been cancelled due to a second postponement

General Business:

Callum said a massive thank you to Daisy and Kelsey for the amazing food spread, thanks to committee for all their work this year, thanks to all those that organized and led trips, and big thanks to all the unsung heroes – the people who show up to meetings, help out and make the club such a great place to be.

There was a long mid meeting break to eat the lovely desert platter laid on by Daisy and Kelsey.

Magazine:

Meet the Member - Andy & Suzy
Rig Rundown - Dave B

Andre asked for interest from the club around arranging a remote first aid course in the future – it's a 3 days course. There was general acceptance that it was worth exploring a bit further. Andre will report back to the club at the next meeting

Happy New Year and all that Jazz!!

We hope everyone had a restful yet exciting summer break and that the January back to work blues haven't kicked in too bad! If they have and you're feeling a bit down, then get yourself onto the Trips pages and book yourself on a trip. You know that's going to make you feel better with something to look forward to. Or even organise your own trip - use up that negative energy by getting your head stuck in a guide book or old trip report and planning up your own crazy adventure (which we can all join too!)

This month's meeting

The first meeting of the year is Wednesday 1st February. Unfortunately we won't be having a desert platter (like December's meeting) but I am sure all our waistlines will be thankful of that. There will be some light refreshments as usual so it's not all bad news (perhaps some wafer thin low fat tasteless rice crackers??). It would be good to see everyone there, hear about all our summer adventures and bang our heads together about some upcoming trips.

Delegate Representative Committee Member

The Club are still looking for a Delegate representative for the committee so if you are interested please get in touch.

Trip Leaders

The club is keen to encourage more members to lead trips, whilst also recognising that some members are still new and/or worried about the requirements to be a leader. The committee is happy to help and hand hold as required any budding leaders and if there was sufficient interest, may consider running a Trip Leader training event. If you are interested to be a Leader please make contact with Neville as Trips Coordinator or any committee member. It's not as hard or difficult as you may think!

Attracting New Members

As an active and thriving club, we need to keep attracting new members to join us. The committee is currently considering several ideas to try to attract new members and will be discussing these at a future meeting. If you have ideas that you think might be worth considering then please do make contact with a committee member and share.

All and any contributions welcome

Please don't be shy! Help the Editor keep the magazine fun and interesting, and relevant to you, by sharing some words and/or pictures. Literally anything you have is welcome!

Please visit our website at VFWDC.com to view all our current membership forms and club policies.

Sheepyard Flat, 25th - 27th November, written by Maree

Participants:

Maree & Stuart - Toyota 79

Ian & Audrey - Patrol

Steve C - Pajero

Michael S - Ranger

Libby & Ian - Ranger

Friday 25th:

Sheepyard Flats nestled in the historic Hawqua Hills welcomed us with a crisp and chilly evening. We soon got the fire going to welcome the group as we assembled for Saturday's adventure. Everyone was in good spirits and happy to be away. The night air was chilly and we had a shower of rain overnight, but that just added to the anticipation.

Saturday 26th:

We found everyone but Ian and Libby had a leaking Ranger. With some investigating, it was found to be the transmission. They decided to take the day to relax and chill while we headed out on our adventures. We headed off up Brook's Road to Tunnel Bend for a short walk. The river was flowing hard and we watched the rocks disappear in the thunderous wake. There was no way you would get through the tunnel because of the sheer volume of water going through.

Next stop was Upper Jamison Hut but the river was fair hooting along and we stopped to check it out. Stuart went in to have a better look and promptly got bogged in the mud at the river crossing.

Luckily we had Michael and his trusty Ranger to attach a winch and drag Stuart backwards and out. (No-one needs to ask which brand of winch it is!!) It was just a case of the nightly LandCruiser having to be rescued yet again. The smile on Michael's face was priceless as his winch slowly pulled Stuart's Landcruiser up the embankment. Ian and Alan attached ropes to the vehicles so it all worked out as an easy winch.

Stuart had to go on a fishing expedition for his mud flap he mislaid in the deep boggy puddles. It was comical to see him slipping and sliding whilst searching for the mud flap but was found in the end and reattached.

From there we headed to Bluff Hut to dodge the puddle and negotiated the rocks steps. The road had taken a beating from the water and traffic. The short walk out to the bluff was a challenge because of the stream of water and boggy sodden soil. The view from the top was spectacular. The sky had cleared but the wind was unforgiving - it went straight through you.

Even Stuart did the walk and there are photos to prove it!!

Next stop was Lovick's Hut where we enjoyed lunch and a loo with view!! The history of the hut and the family connections with the area go back generations. You know you are at a high altitude because the snow gums have that twisted, gnarled old standing. You just look at them and wonder what they have seen in their lives.

Down Bluff Link Track we encountered more boggy puddles and fallen trees but lucky for us someone else had cleared the track. The grader was hard at work and we stopped to admire his smooth road building skills. I think a big thank you to all the grader drivers who are working on these roads at present - it would be a never ending task.

Back on to Brook's Road, we head back to camp but not before picking up a load of firewood as it was going to be another chilly night (even though summer starts next week). Alan was showing off his new wood splitter ax - we all said it was doing a great job!

Sunday 27th:

There was a sprinkle of rain overnight which effected our decision over which tracks to take for the day.

Ian and Audrey headed out with their caravan. Libby and Ian had to call in a tow truck because their Ranger was still leaking. Mansfield Towing came to the rescue with a lime green tow truck so they will have stories to tell (be sure to ask them at the next meeting!!). Its good to get the picture but it can be interpreted in a different way as the tow truck was parked next to Ian's Patrol.

The rest of the group decided going out via Doughty Road. It did not disappoint with vista views of the mountains. We took the detour to the Timber Top summit walk track car park but decided this was better left for another day.

We stopped and aired up and said our goodbyes. Ann & Alan and Stuart & Maree headed to the Mansfield Hotel for lunch and everyone else headed home.

A great trip was had by all.

Post Script: See next page for a heart (and body) warming story about a group of school girls who were wet and cold at the campsite on Saturday night.

This is an article written by Maree for the Track Watch magazine.

Kindness

The Victorian 4x4 Wheel Drive Club, VFWDC, organised a weekend trip to Sheepland Flats, nestled in the historic Howqua hills, from the 25/11/2022. The group, enjoyed the challenging drive to the iconic hut and the spectacular scenery that unfolded, but the most rewarding part of the weekend, was a random act of kindness. We set up camp, started a fire, and watched as a group of walkers, came in. They were girls on a thirty day walk through this area. They had wet tents, socks, and were just soggy in general. We started a conversation with the group leader, and asked if they could have a fire? We took wood and fire lighting apparatus down to the fire pit nearest their camp. We assisted in starting the fire, and stacking the wood, explaining they needed a bucket of water to put it out, at the end of the night. We headed back to our camp. It was lovely to hear the girls happy voices around the fire

The next morning the girls had packed up their camp, and before starting their walk for the day, they came up with a note, to thank us. They were grateful as they had been able to dry their socks, and feel warm before bed.

It's just a thought that we take it for granted as we travel through areas, we have chain saws, axes, fire lighters. As prepared campers with vehicles its not difficult to leave a pile of wood, because you never know who will be there after you. We all try to do the right thing, and it was this act of kindness towards the walkers that we agreed was our highlight of the weekend.

I have attached the note the girls gave us.

Ed: Thank you for sharing this feel good (and warm) story Maree. And thank you for your wisdom and kindness, and for being an awesome ambassador for our club (and of course the human race as well).
